Case Worker, Hind is trying many different ways to help Lena. Case work means thinking 'out of the box'. Right now, Hind is investigating installation of an external security camera, negotiating NDIS funding and a housing solution for Lena.

"A safety camera installed at the front of Lena's home will help Lena and the children feel safer, while we negotiate with the landlord and find the family a new home. It will also act as a deterrent for the unknown people who have been harassing the family. The camera will record all activity, so Lena will have clear evidence to show local police.

"Lena's chronic pain is caused by ongoing pressures, leading to anxiety and depression. With access to NDIS funding, Lena will have regular counselling and therapy for herself and the children, to help them to heal together and create new beginnings."
